

EXPLAINER: PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT POINTS

Professional Development Point (“PDP”) means a unit used to renew teacher licenses earned through the completion of specific professionally aligned tasks and assignments. This replaces the 6 credits that were required for certification renewal. These definitions and requirements may be found in COMAR 13A.12.02 Educator Licensure – Teachers.

PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT REQUIREMENTS

The Initial Professional, Professional, and Advanced Professional license may be renewed for successive 5-year terms on the successful completion of the requisite number of professional development points (PDPs) as set forth in COMAR 13A.12.02.06 of this chapter based on an approved individual professional development plan that is designed to improve teaching and student learning, and, if required, by the educator’s supervisor.

NEW CHANGES

Educators applying to renew an Initial Professional, Professional, or Advanced Professional License shall complete a minimum of 90 PDPs that shall include:

1. Content or pedagogy related to an area on the educator’s license;
2. English as a Second Language, Sheltered English, or Bilingual Education;
3. Strategies for teaching students with disabilities, or differentiated instruction for students with diverse learning needs; and
4. Culturally Responsive Teaching or diverse student identities in education.

Note: You must obtain at least one hour in each category and a total of 90 PDP points to satisfy the PDP requirement.
